

David W. Maves
Music

1985 Distinguished Research Award
2001 Distinguished Advising Award

David W. Maves received his B.M. from the University of Oregon in 1961 and his D.M.A. in 1971 from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. In 1964 he was appointed Ford Foundation Composer-in-Residence in Raleigh, NC, and since has received various other awards including several ASCAP awards and two Sigma Alpha Iota Inter-American Awards. He has been active as Composer-in-Residence at the College of Charleston for over 27 years, and composed over 200 works, of which over half are published.